4. Need to be able to build a bonded, stable, and secure relationship with both my children.	Strengths: Concerned mother who expresses love for her children, taken classes in self-esteem, parenting, relationship skills, and emotional skills. Has a BMCW worker who helps client with all needed services in the reunification process. Works with therapist and lives successfully with others.
	Strategy: A) BMCW has scheduled supervised site visits every Saturday for both children for 2 hours to be conducted by the Family Support staff. B) BMCW will monitor client's visitation with children by reported information from Family Support and from reports from children and client. C) BMCW plans to evaluate and move client's supervised visits to unsupervised visits after receiving feedback from client, staff at Family Support, and children after one month of consistent visitations and documentation of negative UAs. Client will be responsible for transportation during the visits. D) Client must contact BMCW at WCSN Site 5 to set up at least once a month appointments or as many as necessary. E) Client and BMCW will inquire about activities or outings during visits with Family Support for her family upon their next contact with agency.

Notes (Please indicate date of entry):

5/10/02 – P&P Agent from the Department of Corrections informed both the client and the facilitator that she had prior engagements and show would not be able to attend the initial wraparound meeting. The P&P Agent agreed to provide written input on the client’s progress, and plans to attend the next meeting.

8/13/02 – The BMCW worker expressed her concern about the client keeping in contact through scheduled appointment and emphasized the importance of communication between the client and the worker, especially when presenting to the judge at the children’s court. It was discussed that the client would call the BMCW to schedule her next appointment no later than tomorrow (8/14/02). Also the BMCW worker clarified to the team that she would be willing to start unsupervised visits for the client provided the following things occurred: a) UA documentation from P&P Agent, b) talk with children, c) conduct home visit at current residence, d) get supervisor’s input, and e) client must provide her own transportation.

P&P Agent has informed the team that the client’s supervision status has changed from high-risk office and home visits to maximum supervision home or office visits every 2 weeks.
